Battle-Cruiser New Zealand Arrives Today

BRITISH TARS TO BE FETED IN HONOLULU

WARSHIP, ON HER MAIDEN
CRUISE, WILL DOCK
THIS AFTERNOON

Honolulu welcomes the huge battle-cruiser New Zealand this afternoon. With flags flying gaily from the buildings of the city, and crowds assembled at the water front, the boom of cannon from ship and shore, the new ship of war, presented to Great Britain by her loyal New Zealand subjects, completed her long voyage from Auckland this afternoon.

Saluting the American flag, the great vessel wends her way into the port of Honolulu, and the boom of cannon from Fort Armstrong answers the visitors, a salute being paid to the flag of Great Britain by American guns.

Thus will begin the week of entertainment here of the officers and crew of the gift battle-cruiser New Zealand. The firing of guns will mark the opening of the convivial week and the firing of guns will also mark its close. Salutes to the flag, naval, military and civil officers will be given as the ship arrives and when formal calls are made on Captain Halsey and his officers on the New Zealand.

From the time of the arrival of the battle-cruiser until it departs, a round of entertainments for the officers and the crew is planned. The army and navy and local society are preparing to take an active part in making the visit of the New Zealand officers one not soon to be forgotten. Daily the functions planned for them have been increasing, and so many have already been planned that it may be doubted if the officers will find time to enjoy them all.

Change in Program

The days which were originally set aside as "free days," with the idea of leaving them open to permit the officers to decide upon their own entertainment for that time are now found to be erased from the social calendar, and over them has been written the title of a pretty garden party or tea to be given in honor of the guests.

And as the plans for the entertainment of the officers have expanded, so also have the plans for the entertainment of the crew, and now in place of only one day being set aside for them, it is found that for three days they will be entertained. From sports, to the winners of events of which prizes will be given, smokers and shows are part of their program, and arrangements have been made to the end that it will not cost them a cent, free transportation on the street cars even being seen to.

From the time they hear Kappelmeister Berger's hand playing at the Alakea street wharf this afternoon, where the battle-cruiser will dock, until the same band plays them an Aloha Oe Friday, they will really be the guests of the city, and all who can obtain shore-leave will find something or other prepared for their entertainment. The Aquarium will be opened to them, the Seamen's Institute will welcome them.

When the vessel arrives off port this afternoon, Lieutenant Stevens, aide to Rear Admiral Moore, commandant of the naval station, will board the modern war craft, offering the courtesies of the port and a chart of the channel. The New Zealand will proceed to the Alakea wharf, docking on the Ewa side.

Soon after docking she will be boarded by the British committee, composed of George F. Davis, chairman; William Healey, secretary; Consul Rentiers, C. G. Ballentyne, Roderick O. Matheson, J. Phillips, Robert Catton, J. Fenwick and C. M. Forster. Mr. Rentiers will first call in the capacity of committee man and later he will make an official visit as consul.

Salute for Naval Officers.
It is probable that the calls to be exchanged between Captain Halsey and military and naval officers will not be made until Monday, when the commander of the New Zealand will call on Rear Admiral Moore. A salute of nine guns will be accorded him as he leaves. Later when the Rear Admiral visits the captain on his ship, a similar salute will be given him as he leaves.

At St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday morning, services will be held which the officers and men of the vessel will attend, the marines in their red scarlet coats and the jacksies in their white uniforms. In the afternoon the officers will be the guests of the Commercial Club in an auto tour over the city, followed by tea at the club.

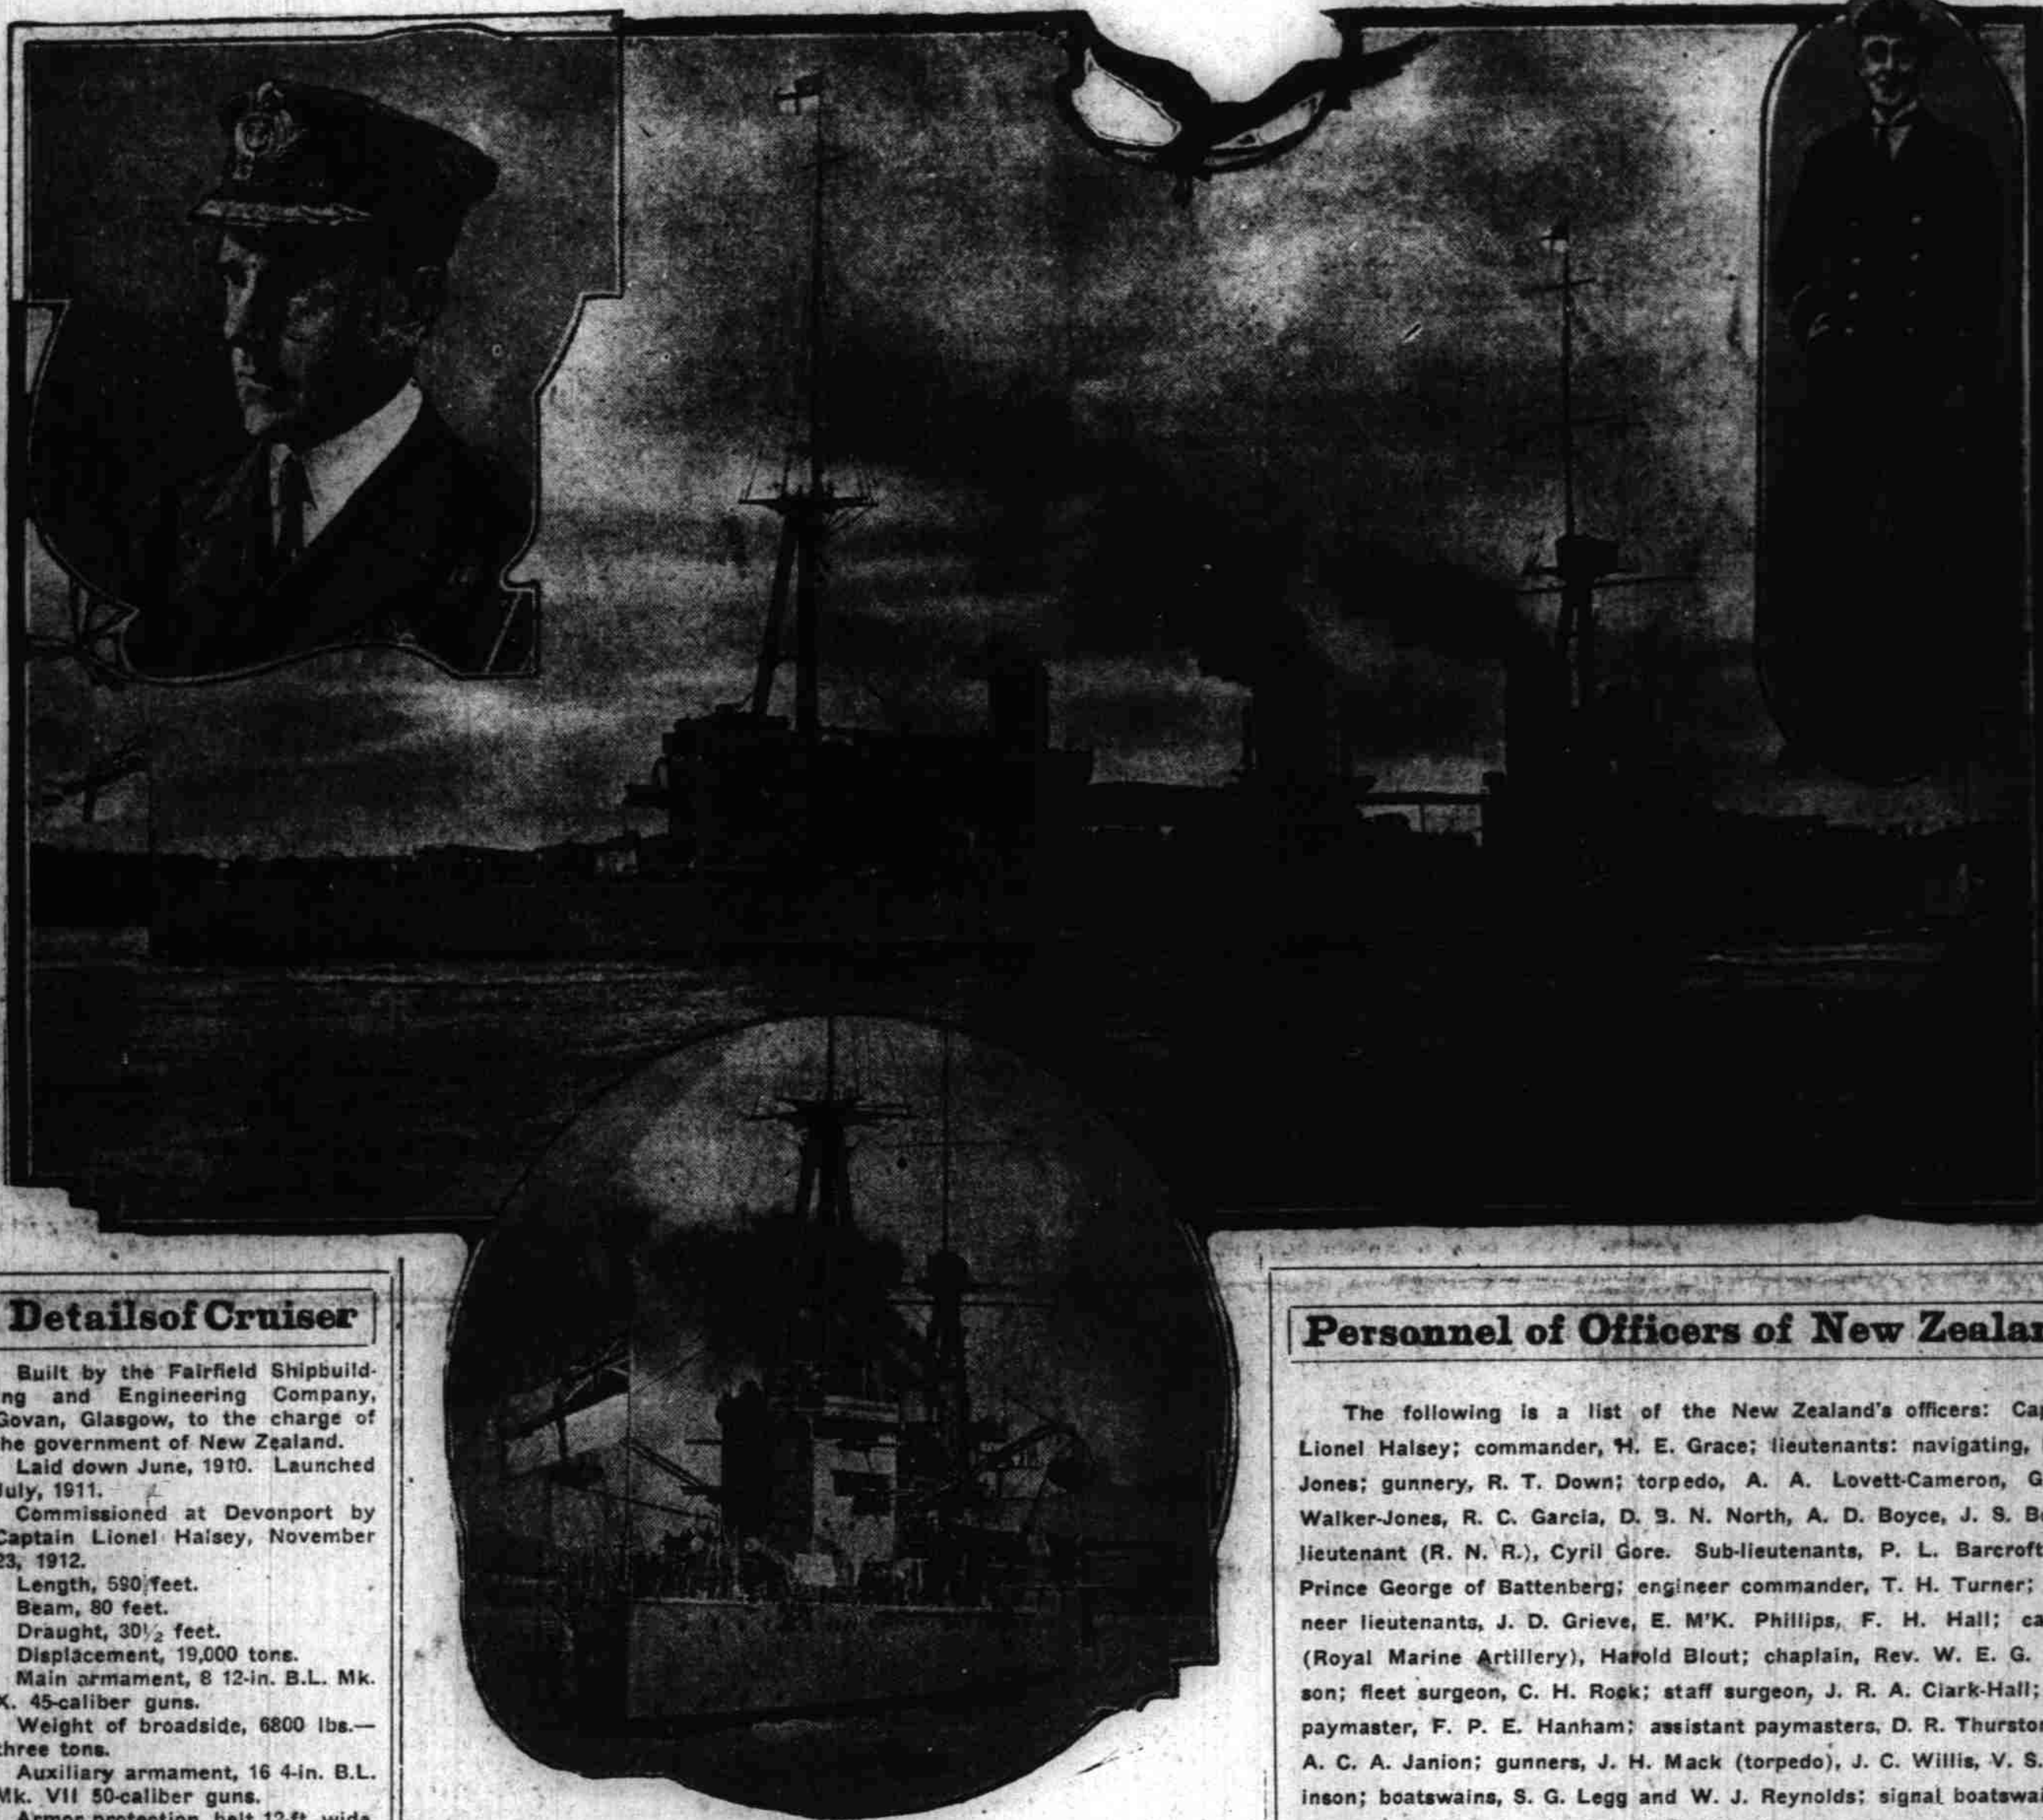

Other social functions will follow close on the heels of it, as is indicated in the calendar given above, with

DRYDOCK DECISION WILL BE MADE ON AUGUST 6

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—An important conference on the Pearl Harbor drydock situation was held here today, and the subject thoroughly reviewed from all angles. Three reports of Engineers Stanford and Harris were referred to the contractors, to explain conflicting statements made by the latter. Final decision was postponed until after August 6.

C. S. ALBERT.
Those in touch with Pearl Harbor affairs here are at a loss to explain the existence of three reports mentioned in the above dispatch. Only one report was submitted by the Gayler board, which investigated the practicability of the site and specifications, and forwarded its findings June 18. This report, it is understood, endorsed both the present site and the specifications under which the contractors were working when the drydock "blew up" last spring. It was signed by Civil Engineers Gayler, Harris and Gordon.

However, immediately after the disaster, Admiral Cowles, then commandant here, submitted a detailed report of the occurrence, and later Civil Engineer Gayler sent on plans for building the dock of concrete blocks, moored on shore, and lowered into the basin by means of the floating crane. These made three separate communications in regard to the drydock problem, but what conflicting statements by the contractors, if any, are incorporated in them, is not known.

"I do not understand the reference to conflicting statements and three reports in this cable," said Admiral Moore when shown the dispatch this morning. "Only one report was forwarded by the board which last investigated the drydock proposition, and that report was signed by all three civil engineers. All that I can say with any certainty is that there will be a drydock at Pearl Harbor. That has been apparent all along."

PRICE CUT IN PINEAPPLES IS CONTEMPLATED

A cut of approximately fifteen per cent in the price of canned pineapples is contemplated by the local pineapple interests, according to reports

PRECINCT CLUBS UNABLE TO GET LINE ON POLICY

Few Meetings Held and All
Slimly Attended—One Club
Asks Committee to Resign

Reports received last night and this morning from Republican precinct clubs indicate that not more than half of the clubs held meetings last night in response to the call of the county committee.

The "insurgents" of the ninth precinct, fourth district, carried out the plan published in the Star-Bulletin yesterday afternoon of calling for the resignation of the county committee in a body. A resolution to that effect was passed and reported this morning unanimously adopted.

In the thirteenth precinct of the fifth district, it was stated today by club members, a general discussion brought out considerable sentiment that Chairman von Damm and Secretary John H. Wise of the county committee should resign. It was felt, however, that this was a matter for the county committee itself to deal with. The club endorsed the work of its own precinct committee, S. P. C. Cortes.

This club discussed a campaign of

AMBASSADOR PROTESTS
FEELING AGAINST HIS COUNTRYMEN

[Associated Press Cable]

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 12.—Once more the situation here is such as to call forth a protest from Uncle Sam and an intimation that Mexico must not jeopardize the lives of American citizens or the safety of American property.

Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson today formally protested to the Huerta government against what is termed the "increasing anti-Americanism." He declares that the lawless feeling against Americans has reached a dangerous pitch. He has asked that an investigation be made of an anonymous threat to dynamite the American embassy.

WORKMEN AGITATE FIGHT

[Associated Press Cable]

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 12.—Thirty thousand workmen have appealed to the government for systematic military instruction. "In preparation for fight for national existence." A big student demonstration is to be held tomorrow. Sentiment is heard everywhere that intervention by the United States is likely.

MINING CAMPS BURNED
